

Improvements to “Search for full-text”

Many of the libraries’ databases and indexes include a link from the citation to a “Search for full-text” option. Now, when you search for full-text you will see some new options:

The screenshot shows the Grinnell College Libraries Journal Finder interface in a Mozilla Firefox browser window. The page title is "GRINNELL COLLEGE LIBRARIES" and the navigation menu includes "Services", "About the Libraries", "Collections", "Research Help", "Library Catalog", and "Feedback?".

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code), governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research". If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order, if, in its judgement, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.
